

Professional Statement

I am passionate and driven about cybersecurity and enjoy developing solutions that can positively impact an organization and the people it serves. Through problem-solving using SIEM, programming and other tools to identify and mitigate threats, I commit to helping organizations project their right to privacy and to keeping their data confidential and secure.